

Prompt Engineering Reflection:

For this instruction I asked Chat GPT questions to create a resume using my real experiences and skills. In my prompts I asked for healthcare centered bullet points and asked the AI to make the language used sound more professional. I also asked to target the resume towards marketing in order to shape my experiences so that promote my skills for a marketing future. The biggest change between my original resume and the AI version was the wording and the overall framing. My original emphasizes patient care and in the field exposure, but the AI version focuses on communication and customer interaction. The framing of the resume is completely shifted in order to reflect a marketing presence. I learned that prompt engineering is essential in communicating and using AI, because being more specific allows for more accurate results. I saw that the AI was able to completely tailor my resume in a different realm that promotes a certain focus.
